FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
May 03, 2007

David Kamp named 2007 Fellow of the American Society of Landscape Architects

New York, NY – May 03, 2007 – David Kamp, founder and president of Dirtworks PC Landscape Architecture, has been named to the prestigious Council of Fellows of the American Society of Landscape Architects and will be inducted at the annual convention this fall. Kamp is the founder of Dirtworks, P.C, based in New York.

David Kamp's distinguished career includes the design of a range of domestic and international, public, institutional, commercial, corporate, and residential projects. His award winning designs for special needs populations are examples of his belief in the power of nature to enhance our everyday lives and his commitment to design sensory-rich, accessible spaces for the full range of the human condition. These designs, ranging from restorative gardens to outdoor learning environments, are based on a real understanding of medical and social needs.

His firm, Dirtworks, PC, was awarded the 2007 Excellence in Landscape Architecture Award from the AIA – CAE / Society of College and University Planners (SCUP) for the Outdoor Learning Environment for Natural Sciences at Keene State College. In 2006, Dirtworks was awarded the ASLA Honor Award in General Design and the Honor Award from the American Society of Landscape Architects – New York Chapter for the Elizabeth and Nona Evans Restorative Garden at the Cleveland Botanical Garden.

Throughout his career, David has consistently promoted landscape architecture within the design community to health care audiences and the general public. Mr. Kamp is co-founder of Meristem, an educational, non-profit organization promoting nature's role in the improvement of human health and well being. Recently, Mr. Kamp co-convened a forum at the New York Academy of Medicine to explore nature's role in supporting community and public health.

Dirtworks, PC (www.dirworks.us) is an internationally recognized and award-winning landscape architecture firm. Its designs enhance the restorative quality of the natural environment. The firm, founded in 1995, provides clients with the creativity and technical knowledge essential to project design and site planning. Dirtworks, PC provides a full range of professional services with a staff of technically trained and design-oriented landscape architects.
